

GREAT TWIRLING

By Deakyne Sunday Against Reserves, Hillsboro Winning by Score of 5 to 2.

They walked right up and they turned around and walked right back again. If you were at the Fair Ground Sunday afternoon you will need no explanation of this statement. Deakyne had the goats of all the members of the Cincinnati Reserves and he kept them tied all afternoon. He had thirteen strike outs to his credit, every one of the visitors fanning at least once. He only allowed three hits and but for two errors behind him in the first inning would have easily had a shut out. He also led his team at the bat with three clean singles and fielded his position cleanly. It was Deakyne Day.

Things looked bad for Hillsboro in the first when Epstein first up came through with a single and errors by Reese and McCall let in two runs. The visitors, however, were then through for the day and dutifully ate out of Deakyne's left hand.

Hillsboro tied the score in the second. Fisher led off with a two bagger. Rogers sacrificed him along to third and he scored on Hecker's single. A sacrifice by Reese advanced Hecker and he scored on Deakyne's single.

Four hits in the fifth counted three more for Hillsboro and this being enough and to spare the way Deakyne was going, the boys did not bother to make any more.

Grotlesch started to pitch for the visitors but retired after the bombardment in the fifth. Stigler who replaced him did not allow a hit or a run.

Klump, shortstop of Reserves, and Manager Stanforth had an argument over one of the balls. Klump took one of the balls which was in play and put it in his pocket. When Umpire Richter asked for the third ball Manager Stanforth said that Klump had it. Klump claimed the ball belonged to the Reserves, but this was admitted incorrect by the manager of the Reserves.

The game next Sunday will be with Winchester. All who saw the great 13 inning game with this team a few weeks ago, which was won by Winchester 3 to 2 will look forward with great pleasure to the second struggle between these teams.

Five New Cases Were Filed in Common Pleas Court the Past Week

TWO WERE FOR DIVORCE

Mandamus Suit Against Marshall School Board—Wool Insurance Case Taken to the Court of Appeals.

Five new cases were filed in the Common Pleas Court during the past week.

Charles H. Dudley asks for a divorce from Anna H. Dudley on the grounds of gross neglect of duty. The parties were married July 9, 1899, in Clinton county and have three children, James Logan, aged 12 years, Wilmer Matthew, aged 10 years and Charles Henry, aged 8 years. The plaintiff says that the defendant for the past two years has kept up a clandestine correspondence with other men; that on August 15, 1914, she left him and their children and he has been informed and believes that she has been consorting with other men and that she practically confessed illicit relations with one man whose name he is willing to give to the court. He further says that since his wife deserted him he has been compelled to place the children in the Children's Home. He asks for a divorce and the care and custody of the children.

Lorenzo S. Rhoades and Mary S. West, as executrix of the will of Geo. K. Rhoades, deceased, against Ardella Holladay, as executrix of Henry Rhoades, deceased, is an action for $125. The plaintiffs say that under the will of Henry Rhoades a legacy of $200 was left to Philip Rhoades; that said Philip Rhoades assigned $125 of this legacy to George K. Rhoades, deceased, but that the executrix, although she has the money in her hands refuses to pay it to the plaintiffs. Mrs. Holladay interpleads in the case admitting that she has the money, but that in addition to the plaintiffs, Katherine T. Rhoades and Victoria Brock Patton, claim to be entitled to this money. She says that she has the money and asks the instructions of the court to whom to pay it.

Vance Durbin asks for a divorce from Ida Durbin. The parties were married in Clinton county, Aug. 14, 1914, and have no children. The plaintiff says that the defendant has been guilty of gross neglect of duty in that she deserted him on Sept. 1, 1913, and that she has been guilty of adultery with Arlie Thompson.

Peter Yochum against Henry Yochum et al is an action to partition 971 acres of land in Clay township. The plaintiff and the defendants are tenants in common in the ownership of the land as heirs of Peter Yochum, deceased.

The State of Ohio on the relation of W. P. Cordrey against the Board of Education of Marshall Township School District and Frank M. Main is a suit for mandamus. Cordrey lives in Marshall township and has three minor children. He says that the school in the sub-district in which he resides has been abandoned and that his residence is more than two miles from the nearest school; that the board of education has undertaken to provide transportation for the pupils in the sub-district abandoned; that it has failed to have the conveyance pass on the free turnpike near his residence and that the driver of the conveyance, Frank M. Main, has refused to come or pass a point convenient to his residence. He therefore asks that the board of education and the driver be commanded to come to a point convenient to his residence. The matter was presented to Judge Newby Monday on the pleadings and he issued an alternative writ commanding the defendants to either pass the residence of the plaintiff as requested or on next Monday to show cause why they do not do so.

COURT OF APPEALS.

The case of Abraham Well and Isaac Well against the Connecticut Fire Insurance Co. has been taken to the Court of Appeals upon petition in error. This case is based on an insurance policy of $2000 which the plaintiffs held in the defendant's company covering wool in a barn in New Market belonging to Charles V. Purdy. The wool was destroyed by fire on July 12, 1912. When the case was tried in the Common Pleas Court Judge Newby instructed the jury to return a verdict in favor of the defendant on the ground that the plaintiffs had not complied with the terms of the policy.

ABLE ADVOCATES

Of Woman's Suffrage Will Address Meeting Here—One For Women Only.

Two of the ablest advocates of woman's suffrage on the American platform will deliver addresses on this subject in Hillsboro today.

One of the meetings will be held in the afternoon at the Washington School building at 3 o'clock. The main address will be made by Grace Livingstone, a social worker of New York City. This meeting is for women only.

At night at 7 o'clock Mrs. Myron B. Vorce, of Cleveland, secretary of the Ohio Woman Suffrage Association, will deliver an address on the Court House lawn. Every one is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

The following sketch of the life and works of these famous women will give an idea of what may be expected at these meetings:

"Rose Livingstone calls herself a 'social worker', but in New York she is known as the 'angel of Chinatown' for her splendid work of the past seven years among the unfortunate victims of commercialized vice. No use to disclaim the existence of white slavery in Rose Livingstone's presence. She knows. She does not try to reach hardened cases. Her work is among the little girls. Time and again she has been able to find a child who has been abducted and restore her to her friends before the awful blight awaiting her has fallen. 'The girl who disappears' is no myth, as Rose Livingstone will tell you. She has traced many of these to the evil resorts of New York and Brooklyn and sometimes, alone, sometimes with the help of police and city detectives she has rescued them. Night after night she labors for these little victims of a horrible social order. When she saves one she is very happy. Two or three years Rose Livingstone became convinced that commercialized vice would never be abolished until women have the vote. Since then she has spoken for woman suffrage wherever and whenever she has a chance. As Ohio was her childhood's home, she is much interested in the suffrage campaign here and is giving six weeks of her time to it."

"The corresponding secretary of the Ohio Woman Suffrage Association, Ethel Ridgley Vorce, is easily the most popular speaker for suffrage in the state. Equally at home in a small parlor meeting or before a turbulent street crowd, in a hall or a church, Mrs. Vorce's services are always in demand.

"Mrs. Vorce has had a varied experience. Born in Detroit, educated in Canada, having lived in Europe, and having engaged in work of various kinds, from newspaper reporting and settlement work in New York, to singing in a stock Opera Company, keeping house for her father and brother from early girlhood, her mother having died when she was but two months old, the problems and responsibilities of life have presented themselves to her in many ways. Always a suffragist as a matter of simple justice, she early recognized woman's need of the ballot as a matter of self-protection and as a means of service to the State.

"Mrs. Vorce, since her residence in Cleveland, which dates from her marriage to Myron B. Vorce in 1902, has been active in public affairs.

"Mrs. Vorce's most distinguished qualities are her keen appreciation of justice and her unfailing sense of humor."

Mr. Dietz, who made so many friends for his splendid interpretation of "Oswald" in "Ghosts" at the Little theater last season will speak on "The Spirit of the Modern Drama."

Miss Rosemary Carroll had as her guest Monday Miss Mary Scanlon, of Fayetteville.

TIES WHICH BIND

Us to Nations at War Given by Gen. Runkle and His Views of Our Duty.

HILLSBORO, OHIO, Sept. 25, 1914. EDITOR, NEWS-HERALD:

You have been criticised for publishing the statements and views of Dr. Brown, who brings (as he has an undoubted right to do) his facts and deductions concerning the unparalleled conditions in Europe to the attention and judgement of his neighbors. Doubtless the Cincinnati Enquirer has been savagely criticised for publishing the articles of Mr. Herman Ridder who presents such facts as suit him and opinions which are as German in sympathy as Bismarck's memoirs and of much more doubtful authority.

President Wilson has reminded us that we are a people of mixed strains of blood and that whatever way the struggle ends American hearts will bleed in sympathetic anguish. Our sympathies we can not help but our opinions we can keep to ourselves, and, probably, in the interest of truth and fair judgement, we ought to do so until we know who is responsible for this horror of the ages. What are the relations of the United States to these nations which are fighting for national existence?

To England we are bound by ties of blood. From her we inherited our ideas of liberty and the spirit to defend them. She tried to destroy us, and yet but for the support of her mightiest statesmen in Parliament we might have failed in our resistance. Since then England has stood by us at times when we were critical. She is our nearest neighbor and best customer. Germany has sent to till our fields and fill our workshops millions of her best citizens. There are no better citizens.

She gave us Steuben to train our Army at Valley Forge during the Revolution and but for his invaluable work Washington would have had no fit Army for his great work. German princes also, sent us the Hessians, accused as mercenaries, but many of their descendants rank with our best people. Had we not gained the support of the French nation in the Revolution there would to-day be no United States of America to sympathize with any nation. How will we forget Lafayette?

Remembering the Belgians, with their glorious record coming down from the days of the Roman Empire, we would be less than human if we did not hope and pray for their preservation. And Russia, absolute monarchy as she is. The United States owes her a debt of gratitude dating back to the Civil War. And little Serbia, what a sight for a world to gaze on! It is as if the State of Indiana should arm and defy the other forty seven States of our Union. The odds would be no greater. What harm can we wish such gallant people?

This is not, thank God, our war. Nor God nor man will hold us responsible for its indescribable horrors. Let us remember what our own terrible Civil War brought to millions of homes and that besides this gigantic struggle of giants, fighting for life, our war seems a skirmish or an affair of outposts. The outlook is as dark as midnight, and the horror of it deeper than the deepest hell. Let us heed the President's counsel, do what good we can and await the result which is in higher and more powerful hands than ours.

GOOD MEETING

OF PRESBYTERY

Was Held in Hillsboro Presbyterian Church Monday and Tuesday

DR. MCSURELY PRESENT

And Opens Session With Able Sermon—Fine Address Monday Night—Next Meeting at Washington, C. H.

The fall meeting of the Chillicothe Presbytery was held in the Presbyterian church Monday and Tuesday.

The session opened Monday afternoon with an able sermon by Dr. McSurely, of Oxford, followed by communion.

The popular meeting Monday evening was the high water mark of the of the Presbytery. Rev. Robert E. Pugh, of Columbus, superintendent of Ohio Home Missions, made the opening address. His subject was "Home Missions" and he handled it ably, the address being both informing and highly inspirational.

He was followed with short talks by Rev. A. S. Kaye, of Frankfort, and Rev. W. B. Gage, of Washington, C. H. Rev. Kaye spoke on "The Preparation of the Church for Evangelistic Effort." Rev. Gage's subject was "Personal Evangelism." Both of these addresses were packed full of thought and very helpful.

At the Tuesday morning session a commission was appointed to organize a Presbyterian church at Fall Creek. The meeting for the church organization will be held at Fall Creek Monday afternoon, Oct. 19, at 2:30 o'clock. The members of the commission are Rev. W. H. Shields, Hillsboro, chairman, Rev. A. S. Kaye, Frankfort, H. P. Morrow, Hillsboro, Dr. Curtis, Greenfield, S. V. Wright, South Salem.

Twenty six churches were represented at the session and the visitors stated that it was one of the most pleasant meetings they had ever attended.

Rev. Gear, of South Salem, was chosen moderator of the Presbytery. The next regular meeting will be held at Washington, C. H., in April.

The ladies of the Hillsboro church served an elegant dinner at the church Tuesday at noon for the visitors and the members of the official board of the church.

Judge Ditty on War.

The following interview with Judge R. M. Ditty appeared in the New York letter in Sunday's Enquirer: Judge R. M. Ditty, of Hillsboro and Columbus, is stopping at the St. Regis Hotel and having a perfectly corking time, according to his own version.

"Politics? I don't even understand that word right now. I want to forget all about politics and other brands of trouble and disturbance. And I'm strictly neutral in regards to this war on the other side of the Atlantic. I'm for the Germans and the English and French and Russians and Austrians and Japs. May they all win or wake up."

"Seriously, the attitude of President Wilson in this time of trial is one of the best things that ever could happen to us. We will reap the fruits of a peace that will make the fruits of war look like the famed Dead Sea fruit. America is today the uppermost nation of the world. The boasted civilization of Europe has faded out in a night and the lamp that shines from Bedloe's Island is burning more brightly today than it ever burned before. Liberty is, indeed, enlightening the world."

Miss Margaret Barrere was presented with a beautiful set of a half dozen cut glass tumblers by the other young lady clerks at the Court House Wednesday. This was a parting gift to Miss Barrere, who has resigned her position as a deputy in the Probate Judges office.

Mary Roads and Mattie Miller, young girls aged about 12 years, children at the Children's Home have died from diphtheria. One died Saturday and the other Sunday. Both of these cases were in a violent form. Four other children contracted the disease, but in a mild form. Two of them are well and the other two are considered out of danger. Mrs. Howard, matron of the Home, and Dr. Russ, the attending physician, both state that they do not consider the cases of either of the children, who are ill, as dangerous and believe that the disease is under control and that there is but slight danger of its spreading.

SCHOOL INSPECTOR

Visit Schools of This County—Some Things Prof. Vance Intends To Do.

Prof. L. S. Ivins, an inspector from the office of state superintendent of schools, was here Thursday and Friday of last week.

In company with County Superintendent W. H. Vance he visited a number of the schools of the county and expressed himself as delighted with the way in which Prof. Vance and the district superintendents were installing the new school laws.

Prof. Vance says that all of the rural schools have been graded and that all the teachers and district superintendents are co-operating in their work and that a spirit of mutual help and assistance and great interest prevades all of the schools.

He will hold meetings of the teachers and district superintendents of each district, when the needs of each school will be discussed. By this interchange of ideas it is hoped that many beneficial suggestions will be secured whereby the efficiency and standing of the schools may be raised.

Later Prof. Vance intends to hold public meetings in school houses all over the county. The purpose of these meetings will be to better inform the people of the purpose and intent of the new school system and to show what is being done and what is hoped to be accomplished in the schools. At these meetings a Round Table will be conducted when Prof. Vance will answer questions in regard to the schools thus informing the patrons of the school of the reason for changes made in the conduct of the schools and also securing their ideas in regard to how the schools should be conducted. These meetings he also hopes will arouse a greater interest in the schools among the people generally.

Moving Picture Show Last Sunday.

The first moving picture show ever held in Hillsboro on Sunday was the one at the Forum last Sunday evening. Only one show was given and the attendance was small. Whether this was due to its not having been advertised or because the people are opposed to Sunday shows is impossible to determine. Whether the Forum will be open regularly on Sunday evenings will undoubtedly depend upon the patronage it receives and the amount and force of the opposition encountered.

AUSPICIOUS OPENING

Of Temperance Campaign at The Leesburg-Highland Fair Grounds Thursday.

The opening of the campaign in Highland county for state wide prohibition at the Leesburg-Highland Fair Grounds last Thursday was a great success.

It was estimated that 2000 people were present to hear the masterly presentations of the temperance question by Mrs. Nannie Webb-Curtis and Ex Gov Hanley.

Everyone listened attentively and the speakers were frequently applauded to the echo.

Mrs. Curtis is a most pleasing and entertaining speaker. She presented her arguments forcefully and logically and had the happy faculty of driving her points home with humorous stories.

Gov. Hanley is a dramatic orator of power and eloquence. He treated his subject in an unusual manner. He began by stating that he held a brief for his king; that the prisoner at the bar was John Barleycorn; that he charged him with high crimes and misdemeanors; that his audience was the jury from whose hands he expected a verdict of guilty. He then proceeded with a terrible arraignment of the liquor traffic which he held responsible for murder, most of the felonies, a large per cent. of the poverty and a large per cent. of the misery and suffering in the world. He supported his statements with appalling but convincing statistics. He closed with an appeal to vote Ohio dry in November.

Rev. Swinehart, of Greenfield, acted as chairman of the meeting.

A male quartette from Greenfield rendered several pleasing selections. Excellent music was also furnished by a specially selected band of 15 pieces, composed of musicians from Hillsboro, Leesburg and Greenfield.

The Leesburg Business Men's Association served an appetizing lunch, free to all.
